RAW DEAL FOR HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

If there is one real sportsman in Portville, he very evidently failed to attend the football game at that place last Saturday between the Smethport and Portville High School teams in which the former was "defeated" by the score of 32 to 0.

Seldom has any visiting team been treated so atrociously as was the local club during that exhibition of an apparent total lack of honor or even common decency on Portville's part according to the reports from the Smethport players and several fans who accompanied the team.

Charges which the locals make against Portville are of such nature as to thoroughly blacken the reputation for fairness or a square deal—even supposing the place ever had a reputation of that kind.

These are some of the indignities heaped upon the local team.

Being forced to play through three scrimmages with but ten men in the field with the ball in Portville's possession inside of Smethport's 20-yard line. Being penalized on four different occasions by having the ball taken from them when they were almost certain to score. Two touchdowns by Portville being made after the referee's whistle had made the ball "dead" and after the local players of course had ceased tackling.

Denning and Hamilton were both put out of the game for returning blows struck by the opposing players while the Portville men were allowed to remain in the line up.

Aside from swarming upon the field and successively bullying the referee into making decisions in favor of the home team by its threatening attitude, the ruffianly mob of spectators, hurled threats and taunts at the Smethport players in a continuous torrent of abuse.

The fine class of football put across by the locals against men greatly out weighing them is evidenced by the fact that four successive forward passes were engineered in one quarter for long gains.

Portville plays here on Armistice Day, strange to say.

LONG TERMS FOR 2 MEN

Joe Zampogna and Frank Luppino were found guilty of pandering and receiving stolen goods, respectively by Elk County court, and are now back in the Smethport jail to await trial here in December on a felonious assault charge.

October term of criminal court came to a close after disposition had been made of the cases of Thomas Perry of Bradford, Peter Walker of Kane and James Masceko of East Smethport. All remaining cases on the calendar were continued until the December term.

Perry, who was found guilty yesterday of illegally manufacturing liquor at the resort known as "Over the Top" outside the Bradford city limits, was sentenced to six months in the county jail, plus a fine of $500.

Masceko, charged with the illegal sale of liquor in East Smethport, was acquitted after a trial last week. Masceko was accused of having sold to John Dudick, who ran amuck with firearms at Lewis Run a few months ago.

Peter Walker of Kane, who was to have been tried on a charge of statutry rape on Friday, entered a plea of guilty to the lesser charge with attempt to rape. The court accepted this plea and sentenced Walker to one year in the county jail on this charge and to an additional year on a charge of assault and battery of which he was found guilty Wednesday. Accordingly, Walker will spend two years at the local jail.

Before Walker entered his plea, his attorney argued for dismissal of the charge of rape, on the ground that the defendant was being placed twice in jeopardy for the same offense, the assault and battery charge of which he was convicted Wednesday having been based on the same alleged attack as the rape charge. The court denied the motion, however.

ROBBERS FRISK COP; RIFLE SAFE; THEN GET NOTHING

One of the most daring robberies ever attempted in Bradford was made at 4.30 a. m. Wednesday when four men, three of whom were masked captured Patrolman Frank Luke in front of the alley between the Bradford theatre and the Odd Fellows building and at the point of a revolver forced the policeman to go into the theatre where they bound him hand and foot, while they searched the place in an effort to secure last night's receipts received from the "Take It From Me" performance, which owing to the large atendance was quite a sum.

Luke, who is a plain clothes man left the station shortly after 4 a. m. proceeded up Main street, over to Monroe & Crouse's grocery, to Koch's undertaking rooms and then proceeded to try the front doors of the Bradford theatre. Finding one of them open, he removed his gun from the holster and searched the theatre with the exception of going back on the stage. Finding no intruders he replaced his gun and came out. When he reached a point parallel with the alley that runs between the theatre and the Odd Fellows building a young man stepped up and placed a gun close to Luke's stomach, commanding him to keep still. Luke was immediately surrounded by three others who appeared on the spot so quickly that he was unable to ascertain from what direction they came. The robbers at once proceeded to search the patrolman and were quite surprised when they came across the usual paraphernalia of a policeman, a gun billy, and "come-alongs."

Two of the men then took the officer into the theater, first tying his hands, while the others proceeded to search the building. Presently one of the men returned with the information that it would be necessary to blow the safe and he returned with the glycerine. They occasioned keen disappointment a few minutes later when they learned that the safe was already open and contained nothing of value.

At this point Officer Luke asked if they would not return his gun. This they did after removing the cartridges. They then promised Luke that they would not gag him or injure him in any manner if he would promise not to make an outcry for at least one-half hour after their departure, adding that in that time they would be so far away his alarm could not harm them. However, they made sure of this by first finding some rope in the theater and binding Luke's feet.

It was over an hour before Luke was able to get his feet sufficiently free to walk over to the St. James hotel and have the cord removed from his wrists. He immediately notified Chief Solt, who in turn called Manager Oxley of the Bradford theater, and as far as Mr. Oxley can ascertain the thieves had their work for nothing. One of the men carried a small safe box away with him, but it will prove of no value to him.

County Detective J. J. Allison and the rest of the county forces are endeavoring to discover the perpetrators of the robbery, and a lookout in all the neighboring towns is being kept for the guilty ones.

NEW BISHOP WILL VISIT ST. LUKE'S OCTOBER 30.

Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the diocese of Erie, will make a visit on October 30. He will be present at St. Luke's Episcopal Church here at the services both morning and evening of that date, and will visit Rev. W. E. Van Dyke, the pastor, for several days.

The local church may consider itself quite honored by the trip of this distinguished guest, as it is one of the first he has made outside of Erie since his consecration a short time ago.

Preparations are being made for special services and an elaborate program.

POST OFFICE IS IMPROVED

To allow more working space for the clerks in the postoffice various improvements are now under way.

The set of lock boxes have been moved to the left side of the building and forward about ten feet, and the private office of Postmaster Workley is to be enlarged by moving the partition outward.

Owing to an expected rush of business at Christmas, when the Boys Magazine expects to send out vast quantities of literature to every part of the United States, the local officials decided that the only way to handle the additional matter was to get more space.

After a time, the vestibule and swinging doors at the entrance of the building will be taken away, giving the public the same amount of space as before the changes began.

For a long time the local postoffice force has been working under a handicap of small quarters. The improvements will give quite a large number of additional square feet, with which by careful laying out much can be done.

SHARP TURN IN NEW ROAD DANGEROUS

One of the more or less serious auto mishaps which have occurred at the very dangerous sharp turn in the new road to Bradford at Farmers Valley Store during the past week happened early Sunday morning to a car in which Dr. H. K. Eaman, of Mt. Jewett and another gentlemen were riding.

The driver unable to make the turn while coming toward Smethport on his way home was forced to run into the dirt road leading from the intersection.

The machine crashed into a road scraper and then bounded and hit a concrete mixer which were standing on the side of the dirt road.

The physician's car was almost a total wreck, and a telephone call for help was sent to town.

Beyond a few scratches and abrasions on the arms and body, and a severe shaking up, the occupants were not injured.

Persons living in the vicinity of the turn say that they marvel over the fact that there are not more serious accidents at that point than have already occurred. Most of the motorists from Smethport are said to be driving around the turn close to the store thereby endangering themselves as the cars coming from Bradford have the right of way to make the sharp turn.

Apparently but little heed is being taken of the warning signs that have been placed on the side of the road approaching the turn. In fact, one reckless motorist went so far as to run into one of the warning signs at the turn, it is reported.

About half a dozen machines have been unable to make the curve the rate of speed they were proceeding, and had to run onto C. C. Decker's lawn, one of them damaging the car by hitting a telegraph pole.

The turn has always been rated a dangerous one, but particularly since the opening of the new road to a greater number of vehicles has its menace increased.

HOMEOPATHIC DAY TO BE COMMENORATED OCTOBER 18

The following is a clipping sent to the Miner by A. Grace White, M. D. of Bradford: October 18 will be a great day for homeopathic victory of a great cause, the triumph of a noble ideal, the acceptance of a scientific medical principle by the world for which men have fought for generations against an opposition which employed all the weapons of established power to crush and overwhelm what it could not confute.

Last year, a national clinic day for homeopathy was established throughout the United States, which means that once a year in the future the ablest practitioners in this system of medicine will gather in the hospitals, schools and universities where homeopathy is taught and recognized and demonstrated to the world lessons in the treatment of disease, in the preparation and administration of drugs, in the art of preventive medicine, in all the ways and means that the latest science has discovered to combat, cure and curtail the ills of mankind.

The Red Cross is spending Ten Million Dollars a Year to help the ex-service man and his family —

Annual Roll Call Nov. 11-24, 1921

To bring before the country in visual form the vast problem it is helping to solve, the American Red Cross has prepared for its Annual Roll Call, Nov. 11 to 24, a poster showing how rather than diminishing the total of World War veterans entitled to Federal aid continues to grow. Red Cross Service to these men is costing $10,000,000 a year.

Red Cross Trains 147 Blind Vets In Useful Work

Training designed to fit them for the battle of life was taken by 147 blinded ex-service men at the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, near Baltimore, Md., during the fiscal year 1920-1921, according to the report of the Institute for that period.

Of this number, 19 have gone on to other institutions, in almost every case to institutions where those having sight are receiving advanced education. The blind ex-service men who have entered such institutions are provided with special text-books in Braille, reading which they were taught at the Red Cross Institute.

Twelve men have passed from the Institute to successfully carry on some occupation or business for which they were fitted by special training. A few have withdrawn from the Institute because of poor physical condition, 14 are receiving further "training on the job" and 87 are still in training.

Red Cross Plans $6,000,000 Effort To Save Children

Medical care and shelter for thousands of children in Central and Eastern Europe are outlined as the activities of the American Red Cross in Europe for the current year, says a statement on the eve of the Annual Roll Call of the organization. These activities, supplemental to the feeding operations of the European Relief Council of which Herbert Hoover is chairman, are designed to provide the most adequate and balanced relief within the resources of private philanthropy.

Through the establishment of child welfare stations in the centers of population of those countries where adequate medical care is not now obtainable, the American Red Cross plans to provide the medical assistance needed to restore these children to a normally healthy life. The sum of $6,000,000 has been made available for this work.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 287,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totalled $155,317.

The Phonograph That Amazed Smethport Can Be Bought!

There is a rumor that the instrument which triumphed in the drastic comparison test, made September 19th at the Smethport Lyceum, was a special exhibition model. That rumor is false. The instrument was a regular Offical Laboratory Model,—out of our own stock.

Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test.

If you were one of those in the audience Monday Sept. 19th, who wistfully exclaimed: "Wouldn't it be wonderful if I could buy a phonograph like that"—know that you can. Know that it will perform this miracle every day for your own home.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With A Soul."

Come in and hear for yourself the Official Laboratory Model's marvelous realism. Find out about our Budget Plan, which enables you to own an Official Laboratory Model for a small down payment, the balance on a gentleman's agreement to suit your convenience.

Note: The test at Lyceum Theater was made by Leeta Corder, the world-famous soprano. She compared her living voice with its Re-Creation by the New Edison. There was no difference between the living voice and the Re-Created voice.

The New Edison stands absolutely alone in this achievement; no other phonograph has ever sustained this test of comparison.

SMETHPORT ITALIAN AND OTHERS LEAVE FOR ITALY.

Kane, October 7.—There was considerable stir among a number of Italians at the Pennsy depot, last evening, when four countrymen departed for their native homes. The party included Giuseppe Sottile, Santo Serianni, of James City, and Natele Pakuzzi, of Smethport, and Joseph Serianni of Warren. Sottile and Santo Serianni are married and have families living in that country, and expect to remain there with them. The other two, Natalie Pakuzzi and Joseph Serianni, are going over to be married to acquaintances of long ago, and expect to return to this country with their brides within the next few months. They are all bound for theshme town, Soveria Mannelli, Italy. The party and friends had gathered at the depot a half hour before the departure of the train, and the time was spent in a lively social conversation, excitement running higher and higher as the time drew near for their departure. A hand-shake and a face kiss sent the men on their way rejoicing.

Kinzua, Oct. 7.—Marshall, ten-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Stanton, had both legs broken, was severely cut about the head and face and bruised about the body yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile driven by a resident of Derrick City.

The boy with others who had been playing football in the street with a number of other lads and was darting back and forth as the ball was kicked. An automobile traveling toward Bradford and running at a fair rate of speed was approaching and the lad not seeing the machine run in front of it.

There was a bump and the boy was struck by one side of the bumper on the machine and knocked down. As he fell he rolled under the car which is said by some spectators to have passed over his legs. The driver of the machine promptly stopped and the boy was taken to the office of Dr. Flatt, where it was found that both legs were broken. Dr. Flatt worked over the lad until after 7 o'clock and the driver of the car stayed by until the boy was given attention and removed to his home.

Bradford, October 10.—A 20-year old youth giving the name of Joe Parvis, is held at police headquarters on suspicion of complicity in the recent theft of articles from the show window of J. J. Coffey's store Mechanic street. Last Monday evening, marauders broke this window and extracted two revolvers, a clock and a flashlight.

Parvis was arrested on Saturday by Patrolman Fairbanks. The prisoner is alleged later to have been identified by Benjamin Epstein as a young man who sold him a revolver claimed by Mr. Coffey to be one of the two weapons stolen from the window. The other articles have not yet been recovered.

The police believe that the robbery of Yudel Simkin's store on West Washington street, Friday night, was the work of the same band that robbed Mr. Coffey. The method of procedure was the same in each robbery, windows being broken and goods extracted, without any effort being made actually to enter the stores.

ART, THE HANDMAIDEN.

A parish church was being beautified with a stained-glass window. The older sexton was watching the work. The rector, seeing him thus intent, remarked;

"Well, John, and what is your opinion of the window?"

"Well," was the reply, "in ma opeenion they micht hao been content wi' the gless as God made it."

CUTS THROAT WITH RAZOR

Olean, October 8.—Missing from his home since Monday morning, Edward Westcott, 64 years old, of No. 906 Irving street, was found dead with his throat cut from ear to ear, under a lumber shed in the Troy lumber shed on South Barry street, by William Sullivan of North Sixth street about 6 o'clock last night.

Mr. Sullivan who is connected with the lumber company had been in the shed earlier in the afternoon checking lumber. While thus employed he dropped a pencil through a crack in the platform. Passing the building about 6 o'clock he stopped to get the pencil and was about to crawl under, when he observed a pair of feet beneath the flooring. Looking further, he states that he saw a man lying face down on the ground. Crawling under the shed he recognized the body as that of Mr. Wescott. Mr. Sullivan immediately called an ambulance and the body was removed to an undertaking parlor where an examination was made by Coroner E. B. Burdick who stated death was due to suicide and the man had been dead since last Monday.

A razor with which Mr. Westcott had taken his life was found near the scene early this morning by Officer William Barnick of the police department. Relatives had stated that the razor had been missing from the Wescott home since Mr. Wescott was last seen on Monday.

Members of the Wescott family believed he had taken his life by drowning reported his disappearance last Wednesday to Fire chief L. G. Rodgers who immediately called out members of both Chemicals, who dragged the Allegany River Wednesday afternoon until 5 o'clock and all day Thursday in an effort to locate the body. Mr. Wescott had been in ill health and unable to work for some time and it is believed that he had become despondent over his condition.

Besides his wife he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. George Fritz of Buffalo; Mrs. Irving Edgett of Arcade; Helen and Mary Wescott of Olean; three sons, Lester of Salamanca; Clarence of Elmira, Frank, of Olean; three brothers, Clark and George Wescott of Jamestown, Joseph Wescott of Randolph; one sister, Mrs. Flora Powers of Jamestown.

The funeral will be held from the family residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. William Bishop Gates, of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Interment will be in Mount View Cemetery.

OLEAN MAN STRUCK BY TRAIN; BADLY INJURED

Olean, October 7.—John Fedus, 42 years old, was severely hurt when struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train early today. He is in the Mountain Clinic hospital, and is expected to recover. He was found by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tibbets, who heard his groans when they were returning home from a dance. Police were notified and the unconscious man was taken to the clinic. His scalp was severely torn, right eye closed and cinders were embedded in his head and face. His cap was found some distance from the spot he had been lying. Identification was made when his name was found on an application for a money order. Thirteen cents, a rifle cartridge and alodge pin were among his possessions.

MISSING LINK HIGHWAY MAY SOON MATERIALIZE

Eldred, October 6.—Attorney T. F. Mullin, who represented Eldred Borough before the Public Service Commision at Harrisburg last week, in the matter of changing the grade crossing, north of town, and the moving of the highway from the west to the east side of the Pennsylvania tracks states that something may result in the near future.

It is reported that there will be available for the paving of the road to the New York state line, left over from the county bond issue, about $100,000 which can be used next spring so that the prospects of the "missing link" between McKean county's improved roads and the fine highways of New York being connected up in the near future seem to be pretty bright.

So far as the crossing is concerned, there isn't much likilhood of that being changed, at least, if it is, it will be at the expense of the railroad company.

The principal subject in moving the highway, which, it is estimated, will cost $22,000 was the disposition of the costs, the railroad expressing itself willing to stand not over half of it.

Here the Public Service Commission stated that if the interested parties could get together on the matter of costs it would facilitate the handling of the quesion, and all parties being present, the McKean County Commissioners agreed to put in $5,000, the State Highways department offering $3,000; Eldred Township $1500, leaving a balance of $1000 to be raisel by Eldred Borough.

As soon as these amounts are available the change should begin, and possibly will be finished by the spring.

THREE WORKERS ARE HURT WHEN SCAFFOLD FALLS

Eldred, October 7.—Three men were hurt, one of them seriously, when a scaffold on which they were working on a storage tank of the Eldred Oil Company gave way yesterday afternoon.

They were W. R. Wilbur, 40 years old, of Olean, Roy Valentine, 30 years old, of Warren and Arthur Shine, 30 years old, also of Warren. Wilbur has a compound fracture of the shoulders, Valentine a fracture of one shoulder and Shine injuries in his left side. They were taken to the Olean General hospital.

~Making Extraordinary Mileage a Certainty~

Car Owners want more rubber on the tread where the wear is hardest; more gum between cord plies to perfect a resilient and powerful carcass. And they want a scientifically constructed Non Skid tread with all angles and contacts to resist skidding and give sure traction. Firestone Cord Tires have met these demands of the car owners.

Read Letters Below—

Records from 29,000 to 57,000 Miles

Cord Tires built the Firestone way could not fail to produce mileage. Every day, from all over the country, comes the word that 10,000, 20,000 or 30,000 miles are frequent and consistent records. Now and then they are emphasized by unusual instances such as quoted below. Performances like these demonstrate the ultimate possibilities of Firestone Cords under careful driving.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.,

Gentlemen:—

I submit herewith the history of a 33x4 Firestone Cord tire. This tire has run 57,000 miles. I have retreaded it seven times. The average mileage to each retreading was about 7,000. I think you will agree this is a remarkable record. It is especially unusual as I know the owner to be a severe driver. However, he gives his tires proper inflation. The tire in question is not yet out of service and has every indication of being sufficiently strong for another retread. I am mailing photographs under separate cover.

Gentlemen:—

It occurs to me that you might be interested in the mileage that I obtained from the set of Firestone Cord tires on my Dodge coupe. The first tire went over 29,000 miles. The second tire rolled up a mileage of between 34,000 and 35,000. These were both rear tires and had been cut considerably by chains. The two front tires have gone better than 35,000 miles and are still in good condition. I expect to get at least 40,000 miles from each of them. I need scarcely say that the Firestone Cord will be my tire choice for the future.

INNOCENT MAN HELD OTHER HAS BAD RCEORD.

Kane, October 8.—Charles E. Day, the man arrested in Bradford and brought here yesterday on a larceny charge, preferred by Chief of Police Richard Fowler, and who was for a time under suspicion of being the mastermind in the check-forging operations of Elmer Miller, was given a hearing last night before Justice W. H. Bunce, and succeeded in completely exonerating himself from any wrongdoing. He was a victim of a peculiar set of circumstances, absolutely unknown to the man arrested for check-passing, and from all indications is a salesman of ability and worth the good salary he is receiving. He was immediately released after the hearing last night.

Miller the other man waived a hearing later before Justice Bunce. In default of $500 bail he was taken to the county jail at Smethport this morning by Chief Fowler.

The chief has learned that Miller's right name is Frank Aeillo. He is an Italian and his parents reside in Oil City. Aeillo says that he came to Kane directly from Kittanning and that he has a wife and child residing here. The chief was called on the telephone from Oil City yesterday by a woman who said she was Aeillo's sister. Mr. Fowler was also called last night by the district attorney of Clearfield county who said he had a warrant for Aeillo, charging him with passing eleven bogus checks in Clearfield last week. Each check was for $14.50.

There seems to be little doubt that Aeillo is the man who has been conducting wholesale check-forging operations in a dozen western Pennsylvania towns during the past few months.

BEAR JUMPS ON AUTO. AND DOES QUEER STUNTS.

Coudersport, October 6.—Birney Baker, one time resident of Coudersport, now of Wharton, had an unusual and exciting experience when his car struck ablg black bear recently. Besides Mr. Baker there were in the car Mrs. Baker, Miss Rose Moore, George Baker and T. E. and James Logue. They were driving toward Austin from Wharton and had reached a part of road known as the Bailey Run Narrows, and were going along at a rather rapid speed when the incident occured.

Suddenly a bear was sighted in the light thrown by the car. He tried to climb up a bank and out of the way, but the bank was too steep, and he ran ahead of the car for some distance. As the car came around a curve there was the bear ready for it aparently, standing upon its hind legs in a threatening manner.

The car struck the beast, and it fell across the fender of the machine and was carried a distance of about 40 or 50 feet. The weight of the bear drew the car toward the lower side of the road, where there was a sheer drop of approximately 100 or more feet. Fortunately his bearship climbed off the machine and made its getaway before the entire party was hauled over the embankment. The party proceeded to Austin none the worse for their rather thrilling encounter.

THIEVES AGAIN BUSY IN BRADFORD STORES.

Bradford, Oct 8. Thieves broke a window in Yudel Simkin's at No. 73 West Washington street, and stole a quantity of wearing apparrel. The articles taken included two dozen pairs of socks some underwear and two shirts.

A passerby noticed the broken window shortly after 11 o'clock, and notified the police. The officers find no trace of the mararders who had entered the store simply reaching through the broken glass to take articles on display in the window.

Mr. Simkin who lives at No. 75 West Washington street, in the rear of the store, told the police that he heard the sound of breaknig glass about 11 o'clock, but did not investigate.

POISONED WHISPERINGS.

It has taken time for the American people to see, realize and understand one of the genuinely finest but unsung things of recent days. It is a curious fact that we Americans simply could not realize at the time the pathos and the power of the silent drama, that almost-tragedy, that was being played through in the White House in the final days of President Wilson's Administration. Strange, also, that the American sense of chivalry and of fair play was so dull and deadened.

In the Ladies' Home Journal of October Charles A. Selden tells as much of real story of those days as the world is likely ever to know. For a good many reasons it is fitting that the story should be told in a great magazine for American women, for in its essence, it is the record of an American woman's sense of duty to the man she loved; of her heroism, yes, and of her patriotism.

That was a time of poisoned whisperings. Back and forth across the country, in American homes, on American streets, under church porticos, in Pullman smoking rooms, everywhere, anywhere, the whispers were running. There was a "petticoat Government in Washington"; the Nation was leaderless; the country was drifting to ruin because of "that woman in the White House." The country was full of mixed hates and prejudices, blended with the curious, quick, senseless anger at anything and everything, that was part of war-weariness. The land seethed with feelings that were part reptilian partisanship and part reaction from war strains. All these somehow converged, beating against the door of a sickroom.

Back of that door lay a crusader for Idealism, wounded near unto death. Maybe he was a mistaken crusader but he was an honest one. By his side, barring the door against the world, turning aside the poisoned spearheads of hatred, saving the hurt man from the venomous thrusts of a Nation he had all but died to save, stood a woman.

Strange that America could not see all this then! Passing strange that it is only beginning to see it now! For at last the forked tongues are stilled and the poisonous whisperings are dying away. It is hard to believe now that in all that dark time when the Chief Executive of America was fighting the worst battle of his life an American Congress failed to utter even the most perfunctory resolution of sympathy. It is true just the same and even the shortest memory will recall the congressional harassings and houndings of the sick man. The Congressional Record tells the tale of how certain leading lights flayed the President with scorpion whips.

Mr. Selden's story disposes once and probably for always of the tales that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was handling the wheel of the Ship of State, appointing Federal officials and in divers and devious ways trying to run the Government. She is pictured as a Virginia gentlewoman, a home-maker and the presiding genius of the White House hearthfires. She who had been one "of those pretty Bolling girls" in a little Virginia village was the "wife, super-nurse and super-secretary" of the "Sick Man of the White House" when heneeded these srvices more than he needed anything else in the world.

It is good for us to know the story of a woman's devotion and her solitary heroism now that we have become sane enough, politically, to understand and apprtelate it.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

LAUDER ON IRELAND.

Harry Lauder, returning for what he says is to be the first of many "farewell" tours, was asked what he thought of the Irish question. He replied:

"I'll leave that for the Irish to settle. Ireland is a bonny country its people simple and kind hearted. I think the channel of peace is well opened and that before many days we shall be hearing that Great Britain ian and Ireland have made a peace pact never to be broken."

The answer was as wise as it was kindly and optimistic. There is too much fighting of the Irish question and of all other disputed topics by people and in places not immediately affected and where the brawling can do no possible good. Distrust and suspicion and hatred are voiced too much; friendly belief in human nature and ultimate common sense, too little.

The world has need of men like Harry Lauder who practice Shakespeare's rule: "Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace, to silence envirious tongues'—Bradford Era.

A BOY'S SONG.

Where the pools are bright and deep,
Where the grey trout lies asleep,
Up the river and o'er the lea,
That' sthe way for Billy and me.

Where the blackbird sings the latest,
Where the hawthorns blooms the sweetest,
Whre th nstlings chirp and fle,
That' sthe way for Billy and me.

Where the mowers mow the cleanest,
Where the hay lies thick and greenest;
There to trace the homeward bee,
That' sthe way for Billy and me.

Where the hazel bank is steepest,
Where the shadow lies the deepest,
Where the clustering nuts fall free,
That' sthe way for Billy and me.

Why the boys should drive away
Little maidens from their play,
Or love to banter and fight so well
That's the thing I never could tell.

But this I know, I love to play
Through the meadow along the hay;
Up the water and o'er the lea,
That's the place for Billy and me.

—James Hogg.

WHERE GO THE BOATS?

Dark brown os the river,
Golden is the sand,
It flows along forever,
With trees on either hand.
Green leaves a-floating,
Castles of the foam,
Boats of mine a-boating—
Where will all come home?
On goes the river
And out past the mill,
Away down the volley
Away down the hill.
Away down the river,
A hundred miles or more,
Other little children
Shall bring my boats ashore.

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Are We Living Off a Coal Bin?

Floyd W. Parsons writes in the World's Work:

From the time we rise until the day is done, we maintain an intimate association, either with coal itself or one of its by-products. The leavening agent in our bread and the gas we bake it with are from coal; so are the agents that tan our shoes and that vulcanize the rubber of our automobile tires. We are indebted to coal for the various forms of ammonia that go into fertilizing, refrigerating, electric batteries and household uses; for aspirin, salicylic acid and many other cures for common colds; for elements used in manufacturing, insulating, coatings, phonograph records and pipestems; for benzol, the best available fuel for automobile and internal-combustion engines; for food preservatives, mothballs and disinfectants. While coal furnishes us picric acid and trinitrotoluol, it also carries, locked in itself oil of wintergreen and the most delicate flavoring extracts and perfumes.

"Umslopogaas."

Sir Rider Haggard has revealed to the world that that valiant warrior and strategist "Umslopogaas" is not a mere creature of imagination. He was a Swazi chieftain of high and noble lineage, who had been a warrior before he took service under the British flag. Years after Sir Rider had enshrined the chief in fiction, the fact was mentioned to him, and Umslopogaas expressed his delight that Lundanda (Sir Rider Haggard) had written a book to show that once there was a Zulu people with mighty kings. But who was "She" and where did "She" come from? Years ago it was suggested that Sir Rider got his inspiration from Moore's "Epicurean"; he denied the allegation, but he never told her real origin. It is better so—"She" was spun of the web of mystery.

Man Wants but Little; But Woman—

Alice went with her brother, Ben, to see her first boxing exhibition. Through the entire set of preliminaries she sat with a blase air of a regular boxing fan. Then when the main battle began she yelled with the best of them. In the seventh round of the battle there was a surprise in the form of a knockout. The crowd went wild. Alice cheered and cheered. After a time she and Ben pushed their way through the crowd to the street.

"Well, how did you like it?" Ben asked.

"It was wonderful!" Alice enthused. "But I never saw anyone act so stingy. They might at least have given one encore."

ROBBER TRAPPED WITH BOOTY

Treasure From Saint's Shrine, Stolen Last November, Recovered by Clever Police Work.

The historic Thirteenth century treasure of St. Elizabeth of Hungary, which was stolen from the saint's shrine at Marburg last November, has been recovered, according to the Berlin correspondent of the London Times, after having been buried in the back garden of a London suburban house.

The recovery is due to the vigilance of the Frankfort police. Six men took part in the robbery last November, and five of them were arrested soon after. There was, however, no sign of the stolen treasury and the men obstinately denied all knowledge of it.

Eventually, the police got up to the track of the sixth man, Emil Kellman. It was found that in the meantime he had been to London; he was watched, however, and on his return he was arrested. During his detention the inquiries of the detective led the police to believe that Kellman had hidden the jewels in England. It was assumed that if he were set free, he would probably get them. He was therefore let out on bail; at the same time he was kept under strict but secret surveillance by the police. On June 15 Kellman went to London to fetch the jewels and on his return a few days ago he was rearrested at Cleves on the German Dutch frontier, where he was taken red-handed with the missing jewels and pearls, 174 in number, hidden in his clothes.

One-third of Canada's standing timber is estimated to be spruce, of which there may be between 100,000,000,000 and 150,000,000,000 board feet suitable for lumber, besides 300,000,000 or 400,000,000 cords of pulp-wood. Possibly one-half of the total is not at present commercially accessible. Consul Felix S. S. Johnson reports that of the five Canadian species, red spruce is confined to the maritime provinces and eastern Quebec; white spruce and black spruce extend from the Atlantic to Alaska and northward to the mouth of the Mackenzie; Sitka spruce grows only in the Pacific coastal region, and Engelman spruce is plentiful in the mountainous interior of southern British Columbia. Sitka spruce, which reaches a diameter of 8 to 12 feet and a hight of 160 to 180 feet, was found during the war to have a special value for aircraft frumework. Canada's spruce production in 1918 was $44,000,000 in timber, and $28,000,000 in pulp-wood.

LETTER FROM SUBSCRIBER NOW LIVING IN WEST.

To the Editor:

Now that we are nicely settled and the evenings growing longer, we think more and more of the folks at home and wish for our copy of The Miner so we can learn of their activities.

Very much contrary to the prophecies of our neighbors, our household goods came through without a scratch. We had obtained a lovely house and had it nicely cleaned when notified that the car had arrived.

Kirksville is a lovely little city of about Ten Thousand inhabitants, very lively as are all school towns, and we are very happy making new acquaintances and finding students from our part of the country.

Please send our paper each week to 515 E. Jefferson St., for we miss it very much.

Very truly yours,
J. Lavee Allen.

Mrs. Allen was formerly Mrs. Edna Walker of this place.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

Despite the long trip, the Massachusetts department of the American Legion will send two large bands to the annual convention of the service organization at Kansas City, this fall.

A downtown rest room for the convenience of farmers' wives in the city for supplies and for city wives on shopping tours has been opened in Drumright, Okla., by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion post there.

* * *

Because they considered the post a community asset and worthy of recognition, citizens of the town of Waitsburg, Wash., recently purchased a lot, built a building and presented it to Samuel W. Scott post of the American Legion for use as a clubhouse.

* * *

When Jerry Rider was cut out the road to the village cemetery, the American Legion post of Natchez, Wash., named from its former members. Each man brought a team of horses, gave two days' work and a new road was constructed.

* * *

Advocating a playground for the kiddies of the community members the Saylessville (Rhode Island) post of the American Legion brought the matter to completion by leveling the ground and putting the equipment in place with a saving of several hundred dollars to the city.

* * *

The athletic desires of the young war veterans of Oklahoma were evidenced recently when the state department asked each post of the American Legion what games they wanted at a state athletic meet. Horse-shoe pitching contests led the list, with tennis and golf poor seconds.

* * *

Ex-service patients in hospitals of Oregon have been extended free membership in the American Legion of the state, the posts waiving post dues and the department paying state and national fees, that the disabled may receive copies of the official magazine and the benefits of membership.

* * *

John Bronlhead Wallace, son of the secretary of agriculture, and Miss Margaret Powell, Cedar Rapids, Ia., recently married, have been receiving the official congratulations of Argonne post, the American Legion, Des Moines, of which Mr. Wallace is a vice commander.

* * *

By besting a walking record which had been undisturbed for years, George N. Brown, Endicott, N. Y., won a wager of $100 which he divided equally between two American Legion posts of his vicinity. Mr. Brown holds the world's championship pedestrian record.

* * *

Chimes installed in every city and town of America, to play "The Star-Spangled Banner" each evening, would be a most fitting memorial to the war dead, according to a resolution introduced into the recent convention of the American Legion of North Carolina, seeking support of the state in the project.

Insurance against rain, high winds and liability to spectators, is being sought by the Kansas City Flying club in preparation for the annual convention of the American Legion there this fall. Applications for the "freak" policies have been made to American companies and to Lloyd's of London.

* * *

An American Legion emblem, wrought in exquisite crochet in memory of the dead and wounded soldiers of the World war, which won first prize in a national knitting contest for Mrs. Velma S. Cole, Binghamton, N. Y., has been presented to her local post of the Legion. Mrs. Cole is an invalid.

* * *

Holding that a sense of shame would work where entreaties failed, the American Legion post of Zillah, Wash., recently took photographs of every dirty and unsightly back yard in the city. These photos were displayed in several stores of the city's main streets, and within a week, every back yard had been cleaned to perfection.

* * *

Transferred from San Francisco to St. Paul, Private Charles Gilbert, U. S. Marines, gained permission to hike to his new station. He completed the record match recently, after having been lost in the desert country of Battle Mountain, Nev., and without water for two days. He was "lifted along" by various American Legion posts which he visited along the route.

* * *

A romance of the Rhine ended tragically recently when Sergt. John Wolf of the army died shortly after returning to America with his young German bride. Penniless, following the illness of her husband, the widow was taken in charge by the American Legion of New York and will be sent back to her home at Coblenz with money contributed by the Legion-aires.

CAN'T EXPLAIN IT

"One thing I can't explain," said Deacon Hapgood, "and that is as to why women's dresses are getting shorter in the skirt and lower in the neck, and yet higher in price."

Deacon, we can't explain it, either. Many a YOUNG girl these days argues with her mother that she is now OLD enough to wear short skirts! Times have changed, that's all. Old fashioned folks kept their money hid somewhere about the house unless burglars beat them to it. Now they keep their money in the Bank and pay by check and are taking no chances. BE PROGRESSIVE.

RAILROADS CANNOT YET REDUCE FREIGHT RATES.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Railroad officials are preparing to reduce freight rates as quickly as a reduction in the costs of operation will permit, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

This was the message delivered to President Harding today by a committe of the Assocciation of Railway Executives who visited the White House today. The attendance of the committee was at the request of Secretary of Commerce Hoover with whom the railroad representatives had been in conference, as also with Chairman Cummins, of the Senate Interstate Commerce Commission.

Rate reductions also was the principal topic on the programme at a meeting tonight of Democratic and Republican Senators comprising unofficial agricultural "bloc." Senators attending the meeting said there was a wide and vigorous demand for rate cuts, as imperative to the nation toral interests.

In their meetings with the President the members of the committee will separely the question of wages as favored in the cuttes proposal. Labor is now being hired throughout the country by farmers and manufacturers at 25 cents an hour, while the railroads are compelled to pay 40 cents an hour because the Railway Labor Board has not released them, the committee told the President. Declaring that the railroad employees were intelligent and capable men, the committee also indicated to the President that if the Railway Labor Board so authorized the railroads could reach an agreement with the men without recourse to a strike.

"Sharks are not dangerous if kept amused or interested," states a weekly journal. Great care should be taken, however, when one of these creatures is invited to take part in a game of "snap."—The Passing Show (London.)

Among the witnesses called in a trial in a Southern court was an old darky.

"Do you swear that what you tell shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?" intoned the clerk.

"Well, sah," returned the witness shifting uneasily. "Dis lawyer gemmun kin make it a pow'ful lot easier on hisself an' relieve me of a mighty big strain ef he'll leave out anything about gin and chickens. 'Ceptin' fo' dose, Ah kin sick to de truth."—The American Legion Weekly.

DISCOVERED USE OF MIRRORS

Diner Finds That Noonday Flirtations Are Greatly Aided by Properly Placed Reflectors.

"I know why they fill the walls of these restaurants full of mirrors," said Sidney.

"So do I," said his friend Aleck. "For the same reason they put chewing gum boxes in the subway station. So's the flappers can fix their hair if any part of their cats should be showing."

"Not so," returned Sidney. "Watch me."

They entered a white poppolin restaurant, the walls of which were lined with mirrors that reflect to the view a lengthy, interminable line of reflected restaurants.

They were seated a few minutes, and Aleck observed that Sidney was smiling cordially into space. There was no one near by except a flapper with an expressive back, the back being toward Aleck and Sidney.

"You act like a lunatic in the making," said Aleck. "What are you grinning at in that iced cantaloupe sign for?"

"I'm not. I'm looking at the peach. Ain't she a bear?"

Then Aleck, gazing in the direction he saw Sid's eyes were bent, looked in the mirror and was confronted by the gaze of the flapper with the expressive back. He saw that she had no expressive face. She was returning Sid's grin with an extra measure.

"Many a friendship's been made through a restaurant looking glass," observed Sid. "You don't mind eating alone, do you, Aleck? Excuse me."—New York Sun.

SAY NEW RELIGION SPREADS

Chinese Reported to Take to Mixture of Christianity, Taoism, Confucianism, and Buddhism.

It is reported that a new religion termed the "Tai-i-chiao" has been established among the Chinese people of the upper and middle classes and is rapidly gaining ground. Teachers of the new creed state that it is a religion comprised of Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism and Roman Catholicism and other Christian beliefs. The god, which is the object of worship, is Tai-i-jen, a figure of imagination. St. Mary and the monk, San Tsang, who is said to have brought Buddhist scriptures to China from India in the Tang dynasty, are also worshiped. The scriptures, which take the place of the Bible in Christianity, are the Book of Lao-tze.

This new religion is now prevalent throughout all provinces in China. It was propagated in Shantung by, it is said, a former premier, Chien Nenghsun, and he now has the following of many high and influential people. The believers hold three regular meetings a week, and go through ceremonies which require more than four hours for completion. In Peking, the religion is said to be gaining ground among the officials connected with the government. Apart from new religions, reports have been coming from different places for some time of a revival of Buddhism, and not a little money is being spent in re-decorating temples and images.—North China Herald.

GHETTO'S GUNGA DIN A TURK

Fez and Baggy Trousers Give New York Drink Vender Potential Oriental Atmosphere.

Picturesque on hot days among upper East side peddlers is the Turkish lemonade vender, says New York Sun. He may be merely a native American in disguise, but he adds to the interest of what might otherwise be a commonplace occidental trade by going about garbed like a Turk such as children are familiar with through the pages of their geography books.

Across his back rests a tank as long as his body, and held up by a thick strap slung over his right shoulder and under his left arm. A sort of Sam Browne belt encircles his waist, except that where on the Sam Browne belt would be a place for bullets he has receptacles for glasses. You ask him for a glass of lemonade. He bows to you, and in so doing operates a mechanism which spills from the tank, through a bung hole near the bottom, some ice-cold lemonade, which falls into a glass he holds in his hand. As the liquid nears the top he straightens up, hands you the glass and you give him two cents.

A more frequent spectacle is that of the individual who is continually crying: "Heiser arbus, heiser bubbas." He is declaiming, in Yiddish: "Hot peas, hot beans." His heating contrivance is in a four-wheeled cart he pushes by hand. For one cent he gives you a small bag, for two cents a larger bag, and for five cents he sells you enough to give you cramps. The presence of the "Heiser arbus" man is a signal for the kids of the neighborhood to run to their mothers for pennies.

Two professors in [illegible] don university, England, are conducting exhaustive tests on behalf of the Daily Mail, with a view to finding a possible difference between ordinary and Japanese pearls. A Japanese pearl is produced by inserting a seed pearl or mother of pearl into the liver of an oyster. Alfred E. Calvert, a fellow of the Chemical society, stated recently that the several specimens of Japanese pearls he possesses are identical in weight, color and luster with ordinary pearls, and they are produced by the oyster with the same materials and by the same process as the other variety.

ARMAMENT CONFERENCE MUST NOT FAIL.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Interest in the Washington Conference is growing in London, editorial comment on the conference was given precedence by several of this morning's newspapers over other subjects before the British people. Some journals, assuming that Prime Minister Lloyd George's decision not to attend the conference was final, warmly approved of the suggestion that A. J. Balfour would be leader of the British delegation.

The Daily Telegraph told British electors that the problem of the Pacific touched their interests far more closely than matters they might consider wholly domestic.

"It is a strange irony of fate," newspapers declared, "that as soon as the problem of the Atlantic was solved as far as Great Britain and Germany were concerned an equally momentous problem emerged from the Pacific. It may threaten a world catastrophe if not dealt with at Washington in a spirit very different from that in which the former was handled.

"If no satisfactory understanding isreached, there seems little chance of escaping naw rivalry in armaments between Japan and the United States for the mastery of the Pacific. It will be seen the whole future of China is at stake, and China's future is of vital interest to the nations which depend upon her markets as an outlet for their manufacturers."

It is maintained by the Morning Post that the task of the conference was not to conclude an agreement to limit or disband armies or navies.

"Such arrangements," the newspaper continued, "have been made before, and have always ended in failure. The true purpose is to remove the causes which make armaments necessary. The meeting at Washington should be called the conference to remove enemy."

While deprecating the view that failure of the conference would necessarily mean war, the Daily Chronicle contended such failure would increase the difficulty of maintaining peace. It argued Japan must be treated as a friend and equal, and that, although she cannot be bullied, she may be persuaded.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL NOW ADVANCED TO $3.00.

SMILES

While making a visit to New York a man unmistably of country origin was knocked down in the street by an automobile. A crowd instantly surrounded him with condolence and questions.

"Are you hurt, my friend?" kindly asked a gentleman, who was first among the rescuers, as he helped the stranger to his feet and brushed the mud and dust from his clothes.

"Well," came the cautious reply of one evidently given to non-committal answers. "I sure ain't done me no good."—Harper's.

"Yessir, eighty-two, I be, an' every tooth in my head same as th' day I were born."—London Mail.

"When do you expect to make another speech?"

"Not before the holidays," replied Senator Sorghum. "Things out home are getting into such a state of agitation that about the only real discreet remark a statesman can make to his constituents is 'Merry Christmas.'"—Washington Star.

Irate Golfer—"You must take your children away from here, Madam—this is no place for them."

Mother—"Now don't you worry—they can't 'ear nothin' new—their father was a sergeant-major, 'e was!"—London Opinion.

Sambo—"Looky heah, big boy, don't yo-all mess wid me, 'cause Ah's hard! Las' week Ah falls on a buzz saw an' busts it—com-pletely."

Rambo—"Call dat hard? Listen man, Oh scratches de bath tub.—The American Legion Weekly.

After Mr. Brown had raked his yard he took the accumulated rubbish into the street to burn. A number of neighbors' children came flocking about the bonfire, among them a little girl whom Mr. Brown did not remember having seen before. Wishing, with his usual kindness, to make the stranger feel at ease, he beamed upon her and said heartily:

"Hello! Isn't this a new face?"

A deep red suffused her freckles. "No", she stammered, "it ain't new. It's just been washed."—Harper's Magazine.

Newcomer (in Bohemian rresort) I think I'd enjoy living a Bohemian life for a spell. But it would have to be on certain days in the week, and I'd really have to be home by one in the morning.

High School Notes

The cellar for the new S. W. Hubbard residence on Main street has been excavated, and the tile is ready for the wall.

At last all the new fire regulations laid down by the fire inspector have been completed. All the doors have been changed so that they open outward. Originally the fire alarm was rung from the study hall but now a large new bell that can be heard throughout the school has been installed on the first floor and is to be rung by the janitor.

Coming to our circus? Well you better if you know what is good for yourself. As usual we are not getting enough support to keep the Athletic Association out of debt. We are going to have a bigger, better circus than ever before and everything will be entirely different from the attractions of the two past years. The date has not been definitely set but it will probably be sometime during the week before Christmas.

The first high school party this year is to be on October 21. It will be a Halloween party and all members of high school and the faculty are urged to come. A good, snappy time is assured for all. Here is a chance for you Freshmen who are not acquainted with your classmates to have a good time and also to get to know your fellow superiors better.

In the harbor of New York stands the statue of Liberty. In our study hall one day last week stood the statue of Justice. This statue was in the form of one of our male students who stood up during chapel (at the request or rather order of the Prof.)

The first edition of "Passing Breezes," our high school blackboardpaper came out last Tuesday. Lets hope it passes out mighty quick if the succeeding issues are as bum as the first.

RECORDS BROKEN IN TYING NUPTIAL KNOT.

Kane, Pa., Oct 11.—A young man and a young woman attracted considerable attention at the Pennsylvania station by the young man's wild efforts to secure a taxi to convey the pair to a minister that they might be wedded.

It transpired that they had just 15 minutes to get married and catch a west bound train for some place where they wished to spend their honeymoon. The young man had the license and girl and wanted a minister. He was rushed to the Rev. D. L. Woods, who tied the nuptial knot with great celerity.

It is learned that the pair who married in haste were Florence Magnusen of Kushequa and Henry L. Roess of Oil City. They caught the train and boarded it amid the plaudits of the assembled crowd.

SURELY HAD HUBBY TRAINED

Little Man Knew His Helpmeet's Whistle and, So to Speak, Governed Himself Accordingly.

The time was Saturday, 5:30 p. m., the place a local movie house, the girl, a large, robust middle-aged woman.

Rushing up to one of the ushers in the foyer she excitedly cried: "Say, boy, I left my husband in here while I went shopping. Our car leaves in five minutes and he ain't out here. Don't want to buy a ticket; how can I get him?"

"We aren't allowed to page any one," replied the usher, "but if you describe him perhaps I can find him."

The woman apparently did not hear a word he said.

"Do you care if I whistle for him?" she asked.

Thinking she was only joking he said: "Go to it."

Immediately a shrill and weird whistle startled the quiet audience.

A meek little man sitting well toward the front jumped as though shot, bolted up the aisle, appeared in the foyer and meekly ran in the wake of the robust woman who was rapidly making tracks for the interurban station.—Indianapolis News.
